Participants as Partners in the All of Us Research Program

Consuelo H. Wilkins, MD, MSCI
Vice President for Health Equity
Vanderbilt University Medical Center

@DrCHWilkins
Overview

- All of Us has a comprehensive approach to engaging participants, communities, health care providers, and other stakeholders.
- Engagement is distinct from recruitment and retention.
- Engaging participants as partners is expected to make the research more relevant to participants and communities and speed the translation of discoveries into practice.
Engagement

Involve stakeholders in study selection, design, conduct, and/or dissemination

Recruitment

Enroll in study
The Recruitment Continuum

Awareness → Acceptance → Consent → Enrollment → Retention → Return of Results

All of Us Engagement Core Aims

1. Create infrastructure to fully integrate participants in all aspects of All of Us
2. Identify and meaningfully engage diverse participants in governance
3. Assess impact of engagement in All of Us Research Program
Participants reflect the broad diversity of the US: geographic, racial, ethnic, gender, cultural, health status, and sexual identity.

We provide clear expectations and resources to participate fully.

We provide communications and resources based on participants’ needs and preferences.

Participant representatives receive appropriate compensation for their time.

We use engagement strategies that are distinct from enrollment and recruitment, reflecting mutual respect, trust, and cultural humility.

We arrange travel and pay in advance to reduce participants’ burden.

Director’s Think Tank

Purpose
- Small group of individuals who live in DC area to provide feedback directly to AoU leadership
- Help shape new approaches
- Overcome challenges
- Advance AoU mission

Selection Process
- Engagement Core performed blind review of nominator’s short essay
- Nominees ranked with preference to diversity and experience with working with diverse populations
October 2018

- Participant Partner Retreat
- Director’s Think Tank in-person meeting
- Joint session with AoU Steering Committee
Multi-pronged approach to evaluation: quantitative, qualitative, objective

- Participant Partner evaluation of engagement
- Leaderships’ evaluation of engagement
- Mentorship evaluation (Steering Committee)

- Assessing AoU leaders, researchers, staff readiness for engagement
- Assessing Working Group Chairs’ perceived need for engagement

- Blind review of meeting minutes
- Tracking timestamp of when participants receive meeting materials
- Pre-post comparison of how documents change after engagement
3-5 questions

1. How can we ensure that perspectives of participants are proactively sought and considered at all levels of AoU?

2. When measuring the success of participant engagement, what are the most important outcomes to assess?

3. How can we work together to get researchers to value the science of engagement – not just the impact on recruitment/retention?

| Establish the infrastructure to fully integrate participants and advocates into the governance and oversight of the All of Us Program. | • Engaged a representative sample of Program members in the nomination, selection, onboarding, mentoring and succession planning for the outcomes
  • Provided appropriate compensation for representatives
  • Ensured equitable opportunities to participate that account for time and effort of representatives | • Appointed participants and advocates to key positions through a participatory process
  • Established and implemented an on-boarding plan for appointees
  • Developed a succession plan for alternate and renewal appointments |
| Facilitate ongoing input from diverse participant representatives to enhance the design, implementation, and use of the All of Us Program. | • Jointly identified engagement strategies and populations
  • Engaged expert advisors to identify individuals from underrepresented groups to participate in activities
  • Ensured equitable opportunities to participate that account for time and effort of representatives
  • Provided appropriate compensation for representatives
  • Implemented course-corrections as necessitated | • Established and implemented onboarding plan
  • Implemented engagement of individuals from pool of diverse representatives in activities such as input on protocols and communications
  • Implemented process for convening panels to assist with language translations; and providing feedback on tools, processes and applications. |
| Assess the impact of participant engagement on All of Us Program design, conduct, and use, and on participant representatives, advocates and partner organizations. | • Consistently measured engagement over the 5 years.
  • Track changes to the Program based on engagement of participant representatives and partner organizations
  • Provided compensation for representatives
  • Measured the expectations of engagement of the Program team and participant representatives
  • Measured changes in capacity & personal development for participants, researchers, and organizations | • Documented positive impacts (such as higher trust, culturally-congruent protocol processes) on the Program and participant representatives
  • Developed and disseminated a tool-kit for engagement plans for future endeavors such as the All of Us Program.
  • Documented that expectations and aspirations were met for Program staff |
All of Us Engagement Core Aims

Create infrastructure to fully integrate participants in all aspects of the research
- Core
- Steering Committee
- Executive Committee
- Participant Ambassadors
- Advisory Panel
- Director’s Think Tank

Identify and meaningfully engage diverse participants in governance
- Monthly meetings
- Participants voting members of SC and EC.
- Participant Ambassadors on 11 governance groups
- Continuous input and evaluation on AoURP processes, products and engagement experience.

Specific Aim 3
Assess impact of engagement on research; develop metrics to inform All of Us as well as future large-scale research programs
- Readiness to Engage measure
  - Future Initiatives
- Return of Results Survey
- Community Engagement Studios
